------	----------

We believe that food is at the core of what defines Humanity.

The ability to cultivate emerged 12,000 years ago, at the dawn of the Neolithic Revolution. For the first time, Humanity started to be the master of its alimentation.

Agriculture, then, has defined where humanity could settle and what territories where valuable. Where life could blossom.

Better agriculture, better techniques, meant better, more nutritious food. More nutritious food has then allowed humanity to fuel its intellectual capacity. Which allowed refined techniques.

Everyday food is a testament of Humanity's genius. A celebration that we share with our loved ones, our friends, or even strangers.

It is an art, where creativity and discipline, tradition and modernity are intertwined, and its masters, craftsmen and chefs, are adored worldwide.

Food is this link between the best of nature and the best of humanity. The generosity of both realms, condensed in a mouthfull.

Food is art. Food is togetherness. Food is nature. Food is humanity.

And this is what we strive to bring to your plate. Everyday.
